

SONG OF THE EARTH POET

My friend Donna would run tree to tree
Talking to tree spirits,
I'd watch her unbelieving,
Seeing only trees.
Alone,
Together.

Now I walk the woods
Among many trees.
I keep moving;
Not believing, not disbelieving.
Together,
Enough.

(late 90's?)